- Capiznon Affluent Burial Customs: For prosperous individuals, the deceased is cleansed with alangingi fruit juice, perfumed with sweet gums, and laid on a bed of plant leaves and roots. The body is embalmed using a fragrant liquor and then dried in the sun.
- Eskaya House Building Rituals: An Eskaya cannot build a home without a distinct ritual where their spiritual leader (the biki) asks the spirits if the chosen site is acceptable. If permission is not granted, they must find a new site and perform the ritual again.
- Suludnon "Binukot" Practice: The Suludnon traditionally kept binukot, which involved hiding their beautiful women in closed rooms to keep them away from the eyes of men. These women were treated like princesses and auctioned off when they reached the right age to marry.
